Terrell, of Austin, Texas, Before the Athenaeum and Rusk Societies of the University of Texas: Delivered June 13, 1884 Gentlemen of the Literary Societies, Ladies and Citizens: At this the first public exhibition made by the students of the University of Texas, I can think of no better theme than the University itself, as a factor in the prosperity of the State, and in promoting the happiness of the people. Texas, with her three hundred and eleven thousand school children, who are receiving instruction in free schools through more than seven thousand teachers, free of charge to parents, or with taxation so low as scarcely to be felt, exhibits a spectacle of local governmental beneficence never before witnessed in so young a State. Other governments can boast of more splendid and expensive school systems, but they are sustained by taxes on the accumulated wealth of generations. Ours is not the outgrowth of time and of inherited wealth, but was provided for by the wise foresight of men who, in the very hour of rescuing a broad domain from barbarism, consecrated it to freedom and dedicated half of it to the instruction of their posterity. But elementary education alone will neither preserve nor advance a State. It must be supplemented with a knowledge of the arts and sciences among the advanced thinkers and workers in every department of life, and by an ardent patriotism which, like that of Curtius, will regard the preservation of the State as the highest duty of the citizen. Those Who Made The University Possible. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and...
