Excerpt: .are justified in acting almost like distracted men at such a moment. But spiritual danger is of a different character: it is not all accumulated upon a given instant; it is not one spreads itself over his whole being. It is not, like the whelming wave, or the already scorching fire, to bring fright and agony into the mind; on the contrary, the special characteristics of spiritual fear should be reflection, calmness, and intense thoughtfulness. That is to say, it is to be the action of the spiritual, and not of the animal, nature. You perceive, therefore, that the instrument I am about to recommend to you is to be used with great caution, with a wise discretion. In the use of it I shall constantly hold myself amenable to that judgment of good sense to which the apostle himself, in my text, appealed. Bishop Butler, in the great work before alluded to, limited the uses of analogy entirely to the purpose of defence. He maintained and showed that certain facts in nature and in life were analogous to certain doctrines in the Bible; and his argument was, not that the existence of the facts proved the truth of the doctrines, but simply that they took away all fair and philosophical objection from those doctrines. Thus, if the consequences of a single sin often follow a man through life, if this is actually a part of God's administration of the affairs of this...
