This letter was written by Father Tyrrell to a Professor of Anthropology in the Continental University, who found it difficult, if not impossible, to square his science with his faith as a Catholic. Father Tyrrell, in an Introduction to the letter, gives an account of the whole matter, and vindicates the position which he took up in dealing with the doubts and fears of his correspondent. * * * * * Those who were interested in a recent significant incident in ecclesiastical circles will find themselves fully informed here as to details. Father Tyrrell gives an explanation, at once lucid, charitable and strong, of the reasons for his dismissal from the Society of Jesus, together with the full text of the famous letter which led to the event, and extracts from his correspondence with the General of the Jesuits. Father Tyrrell, in an Introduction to the letter, gives an account of the whole matter, and vindicates the position which he took up in dealing with the doubts and fears of his correspondent. - The Cambridge Review, Volume 28 [1907] In a private letter, the appearance of portions of which in an Italian journal led to his expulsion from the Society of Jesus, and which has since been published with an introduction and notes in a volume entitled A Much-Abused Letter, Tyrrell says: It seems to me that a man might have great faith in the Church, in the people of God, in the unformulated ideas, sentiments, and tendencies at work in the great body of the faithful, and constituting the Christian and Catholic spirit ; and yet regard the Church s consciously formulated ideas and intentions about herself...
